

Cobi Cockburn

ARTIST STATEMENT

In the Vicinity of White explores the potential of colour and abstraction as stimulative artistic devices that spur human emotion beyond the inherent constraints of reality. Researching the historical, personal, and emotional attributes that surround the colour white, these works are not purely a quest for the 'ultimate white'; they are an investigation of the colour's conceptual and historical underpinnings. Focusing on the ability of non-representational imagery to bridge the material and abstract elements of our world and form a silent faith for the artist, this body of work explores the hue and its roles within art, existence, and faith.
